HERITAGE INFORMATION CENTRE OF THE AGUA GARCIA FOREST

The Information Centre is located within a privileged setting in the municipality of Tacoronte. Its purpose is to convey the most relevant cultural and natural aspects of the Agua García forest.

One is for customer service, and the other is for exhibit purposes with explanatory panels in addition to objects. The information given is based on four concepts: the forest and human action; resources within the forest: occupations within the forest and distinguished travelers.

The forest contains one of the last remaining refuges of laurisilva, or laurel forests, in the Canary Islands. It is a natural woodland found currently only in the Azores, Madeira and the Canary Islands. The emblematic building itself is as interesting as its history and current contents. The tour begins in the chapel behind reception which is now used as a library and meeting room. The remarkable ceiling is often referred to as the jewel of the house; it is of Mudejar decoration, which typically dates from the 12th to 16th centuries and is strongly influenced by Moorish taste and workmanship. Next is the temporary exhibition room, followed by the restaurant with its large terrace from where you can admire impressive views of the Teide and the northern coast of the island.

You can then enter the central courtyard which clearly demonstrates a typical layout of 17th century manor homes of the island; it features an original wine press made of Canarian pine. The visit continues in the wine tasting room, store and vinoteca, or wine collection room. As you leave the store you can turn right and enter the Wine Museum. Here, you will discover the history of wines and their importance to the islands as well as how the sector is faring in today's world. OTHER POINTS OF INTEREST

FARMER'S MARKET INTACORONTE

The Farmer's Market was founded in 1981 in answer to commercialization problems encountered by local farmers from the Tacoronte-Acentejo region. At that time the area's agriculture was based primarily on the cultivation of potatoes and wine grapes.

Two objectives were fulfilled with the Market's opening. Firstly, the possibility for farmers to sell their own produce opened up, and they could thus remove any intermediaries. This was not only much more advantageous for them, but for the consumer as well. Secondly, they could once again cultivate a much wider variety of produce that had previously been abandoned or cut back due to a low profit margin.

There are a total of 125 stalls where natural products from the area are sold; these include fruits, vegetables, fish, flowers, cheese, honey and traditional mojo sauces in addition to the renowned wines from the municipality produced at small family owned wineries. The marketplace also serves as an ideal outlet for local artisans to sell their merchandise.

The market has a cafeteria and available parking.

HAMILTON PARK AND THE CHURCH DEL CRISTO IN TACORONTE

The walking tour begins in the parking lot at the entrance to Hamilton Park. It is located in front of the religious structure of El Calvario which was built on an island in the middle of the street, on the other side is the historic building of La Alhóndiga.

Thus, you will begin at a place of great historic value, for the structure of El Calvario, which means the station of the cross, was the last to be built in this municipality between the 17th and 18th centuries. La Alhóndiga, or Grain Exchange, was the main building in Tacoronte between 1685 and the 19th century. Its purpose was to store and administer the public wealth, which consisted of bags of cereal.

Across the street is Hamilton Park. Within its walls visitors can discover the wine-producing heritage of the Canary Islands through an informative display of different growing methods used throughout the islands. A wide representation of the endemic plants and bushes are able to be enjoyed as well; you may recognize many of the species from the laurisilva, or laurel forest, situated in the Agua García forest.

Along the walking paths are many benches to rest and enjoy the natural surroundings. There is also a playground well-integrated into the environment. The stone-paved alleyway José Izquierdo is situated alongside the park and has three separate access ways. This thoroughfare leads up to the Plaza del Cristo, where the Church del Cristo and the San Agustín Convent are located.

SAN PEDRO APÓSTOL CHURCH AND LOS LAVADEROS PARK IN EL SAUZAL.

This proposed walking tour begins on the corner at the large waterfall and terraced gardens in front of the main entrance to El Sauzal's Town Hall, Ayuntamiento, and across the street from the San Pedro Apóstol Church.

You will walk along side the Church of San Pedro Apóstol, or Apostle Saint Peter, towards the main entrance and square on the other side. From the vantage point at the far end of the square you can admire fantastic views of Mount Teide and the northern coastline of the island. Construction of this church began in 1515, although most of the building took place from the 17th to 19th centuries. The layout of the Church follows a Latin cross plan. In one of the naves, the hipped roof is of mudejar architecture, that is to say, it has a Moorish influence. There is also a stylish white dome and bell tower. The church holds many treasures: a baroque style silver tabernacle, a 16th century Saint Sebastian from Flanders, an image of Our Lady of Sorrows from Seville, a large collection of Andalusian paintings of the Virgin and the Saints, a series of large canvases depicting scenes from the Old Testament, a neoclassical Italian marble baptismal font and a collection of statues sculpted in the Canary Islands. After the church visit you will return to the starting point. Cross to the street opposite the church and Town Hall and descend. Turn down the first street on the right which is calle Los Lavaderos. The street will veer to the left and there at the very bottom you will find a gate with a steep stairway leading down to the Los Lavaderos Park.

This is a refreshing history-laden site where the visitor can enjoy the sound of crystal clear water emanating from many sources and admire the splendid gardens. The park was a former public washing place and clothes could be washed in the small ponds.

In 1987 the Town Hall decided to convert this space into a recreation area with gardens, natural and artificial waterfalls, lookouts, walking paths and a café which is open from Wednesday to Sunday.

FARMER'S MARKET IN LA MATANZA DE ACENTEJO.

The Farmer's Market in La Matanza de Acentejo was inaugurated on 2 October 1999, with the intention of promoting local products and strengthening the recuperation of the agricultural sector.

This Market, strategically located along the TF-217 Main North Road, provides a venue for local farmers to sell their products. The freshness, variety and quality of their products are guaranteed along with kind treatment. In addition to potatoes, vegetables, fruit, flowers, traditional mojo sauces, wines and typical Canarian sweets, the visitor can also find a wide selection of local meat products and handicrafts.

There is a parking lot, a cafeteria and child care facilities .
